General Form VI.

Distribution of the Population by Civil Condition, Age and Sex arranged by Provinces or States.

For Rajputana, Central India and the Feudatory States of the Central Provinces details of the Civil Condition of the population have not been obtained at the Census of 1881, except for a very limited number occupying cantonment areas in Central India; this large section of the population has therefore been shewn in this form under the head Unspecified Civil Condition.

2. The Civil Condition of the population of Cochin and Travancore not having been given by age periods identical with those given in this form, the population of those two States has been shewn under the appropriate Civil Condition heads, but without any specification of age.

The population of Cochin and part of Mahikantha in Bombay Feudatory States has been shewn by the Provincial Authorities by Civil Condition without distinction of religion: in these circumstances, the religion series of Form VI will not agree with general Form VI, if details of Civil Condition are compared; the population above referred to being shewn by religion in the religion series, under Civil Condition Unspecified, while in the general Form VI their Civil Condition is specified.

For Rajputana, Central India and the Feudatory States of the Central Provinces, details of the Civil Condition of the population have not been obtained at the Census of 1881, except for a very limited number occupying cantonment areas in Central India; this large section of the population has therefore been shown in this form under the head Unspecified Civil Condition.

The Civil Condition of the population of Cochin and Travancore not having been given by age periods identical with those given in this form, the population of those two States has been shown under the appropriate Civil Condition heads, but without any specification of age.

The population of Cochin and part of Mahikantha in Bombay Feudatory States has been shown by the Provincial Authorities by Civil Condition without distinction of religion: in these circumstances, the religion series of Form VI will not agree with general Form VI, if details of Civil Condition are compared; the population above referred to being shown by religion in the religion series under Civil Condition Unspecified, while in the general Form VI their Civil Condition is specified.

under Unspecified Religion.

In Travancore the Age Return originally sent into the Census Commissioner's Office did not give periods of age identical with those maintained in the Imperial Age Table. Subsequent to the compilation of the Age Statements for all India, the Dewan of Travancore was good enough to recast his Age Table, so as to bring it into uniformity with that used for British Provinces; it has therefore been thought advisable to print the figures, now obtained from Travancore, below the Age Tables by religions which had previously been completed.

As the Travancore population has already been included in the column Unspecified Age, allowance must be made for this, if the age details since given are added by any enquirer to the totals already given in the Age columns. In that event the aggregate of the age details of Travancore must be deducted from the appropriate unspecified columns.

Form XV.

Abstract showing the Villages and Towns throughout the Empire classified according to the number of Inhabitants.

Differences are observable in the number of Towns and Villages, as shown in the last column of this Statement and in the third column of Statement I in the case both of Ajmere and Assam.

2. Fourteen more villages are shown against Ajmere in Form I than appear in Form XV. The cause of this difference is that in Form I, 14 deserted villages are included. These do not appear in Form XV.

3. For Assam, Form I shows 989 villages which do not appear in Form XV; of these 758 are situated in the Garo Hills, and 231 in the Naga Hills. As it was not possible to classify these villages in the form prescribed for Statement XV, owing to their population not having been separately given, these do not appear in Form XV.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA CENTRAL PRINTING OFFICE.—NO. 2 C. C. 1.—31-1-83.—1060.

APPENDIX X.—Corrigenda.

The corrigenda in the following sheets relate to figures from the Madras Presidency which have been altered subsequent to the printing of the Imperial Forms.

2. The difference between the former figures and the more recently revised figures is so small that it was deemed inadvisable to reprint the many pages in which these small alterations occur. In no case do they affect more than 12 persons out of 253 millions. Such as they are the alterations affect the figures for all India as well as those for Madras, but they affect only those figures which display the distribution of the population by religion. The total of the Province of Madras and the total of all India remain the same.

W. C. FLOWDEN,

Census Commissioner for India.
